FEDERAL PRISONERS MASSACRED BY REBELS

[UNITED PRESS LEARNED WIRE.]
Juarez, Mexico, March 22.—Massacre of 135 federal prisoners by Maderista in Parral is reported here today in letters brought from that city by a refugee. The letters says that the recent Maderista attack on Parral resulted in great damage to the cathedral and the destruction of the central market by exploding shells. Among the victims of the massacre are said to be Guillermo Porras, secretary of state in Chihuahua, when Porfirio Diaz was president; Rodolfo Reyes and Rodolfo Chavez, all of whom were prominent in the business circles of Lower Chihuahua.

The Wrecked Sublime Porte.

Hans Andersen ranks Constantinople first among European capitals in point of beauty, then Stockholm, Edinburgh and Lisbon. The Turkish capital has suffered less from fires than most oriental cities, but one occurred in 1805 which turned the name by which the sultan's government is generally known into a misnomer. Among the buildings attacked was the Seral palace, where councils are held and ambassadors received. The chief gate of the palace, the Bab-i-Humayun, or sublime porte, from which the government derives its title, was burned down and has never been rebuilt.

Musical Tones in Architecture.
It has long been believed that each of the mammoth buildings of the world will vibrate in response to some special musical tone. Architects believe they have found the tones for such famous structures as the cathedral at Cologne, Notre Dame in Paris and St. Paul's in London. Certainly it is true that each of these buildings returns to the ear of the listener that one tone intensified and augmented to a surprising extent. The corollary statement that this keynote if sounded long enough and with sufficient force would bring disaster has never been proved.—Christian Herald.

The French President.

The French president enjoys some petits benefices apart from the $240,000 he draws yearly as salary and allowances. Supplies of vegetables for his table come from the kitchen gardens at Versailles, fruit from the orchards of Fontainebleau, game from the state forests and hay for his horses from the meadows at Rambouillet. Moreover, the state pays the wages of his stable hands and his coachman, but not his chauffeur's.—New York Sun.

Occupational.

The young woman store detective when proposed to was silent.
"Then you cannot be the sunshine of my life," said the young man in disappointed tones.
"How can I?" she answered. "I am a professional shadow."—New York Post.

Perfectly Logical.

She—You once said you would die for me, and now you refuse to get up and light the fire. He—That's perfectly logical. If I died for you I'd be done with it, but if I get up once and light the fire you'll want me to do it every morning.—Boston Transcript.

Evil Doing.

The worst penalty of evil doing is to grow into likeness with the bad, for each man's soul changes, according to the nature of his deeds, for better or for worse.—Plato.
